2013 TOBONI VINEYARD PINOT NOIR

TASTING NOTES

The profile of the 2013 Toboni Vineyard Pinot noir is classic Russian River Valley. The nose is full of sweet spice and raspberry based aromas. Notes of cocoa powder, bacon, fresh raspberries, and fig come in waves as this complex and tightly-knit wine opens up over many minutes and even hours. More complex aromas of raspberry coulis, roast duck, grilled pancetta, and ginger snap begin to develop with time in the glass. The finish is long and persistent with a mouth-watering nose of cinnamon bun, graham cracker, and violets rewarding the taster who allows the wine time to fully open up in the glass.

Drink 2016 through 2026.

VINEYARD NOTES

The Toboni Vineyard is located just off the famed Olivet Lane in the heart of the Russian River Valley. The 15-acre vineyard is divided into multiple blocks which are planted to Dijon 115, 667, and 777, as well as Pommard clone 5. The various clonal blocks match the various slope aspects in the vineyard in an effort to maximize the vines ability to ripen in the cool, foggy conditions. Meticulous attention is given to each block throughout the growing season to allow the inherent, sight specific qualities of this vineyard to shine in the finished wine. Mary and Joe Toboni are 4th generation San Franciscans whose roots can be traced back to San Francisco as early as the 1870's and specifically to Sonoma County prior to the 1920's.
